About Faculty

Since the first admission in 1975, the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences has been dedicated to nurturing graduates in its field towards intellectual and moral excellence as well as serving local/national labor markets and public/private sectors with qualified human resources. Moreover, the faculty also aspires to equip its graduates with competitive edges to pursue further education in international institutions.

Vision:

A leading educational institution in Humanities and Social Sciences contributing to sustainable social development and bridging the community to ASEAN internationalization

Mission:

1. Foster academic leadership in Humanities and Social Sciences and enhance the employee potential, research, and innovations that empower the Southern-Thai communities.
2. Shape graduates with a sound moral compass, ethical integrity, academic performance, professional expertise, and ability to integrate local wisdom with global competencies to sharpen competitive edges in domestic and ASEAN competitions.
3. Promote international recognition, especially in ASEAN through integrated research and international cooperation networks.
4. Strengthen academic services to address the local and social needs, and generate organizational revenues.
